Bands Start Signing Up for "Old Settlers' Day" Parade

There will be plenty of music in the Old Settlers' Day parade on Sunday afternoon, May 19, Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the three-day celebration reported this week.

Cava announced that 11 bands have already indicated they will march in the parade and the music committee is waiting answers from eight other bands that have been contacted.

Entries from two military bands have been received, with other military groups to be heard from. The Marine Corps Band, Department of Pacific and the 5th Infantry Band, Fort Ord, recently returned from Germany, have already accepted invitations.

Three high school bands, Los Gatos, Campbell and San Jose, have accepted as have four elementary schools, Benner, Union, Campbell and Pala. Two civilian bands, the Eagles of Hollister and the Accordion Band of the West Valley Post, American Legion have also submitted entries.

Neal Royer, general chairman, has called a meeting of the general committee for the Old Settlers' Day for next Monday, April 8 at the IOOF Hall when reports from the subcommittees will be made. Mrs. Sara Blue is assistant general chairman.

The queen committee, headed by Mrs. L. O. Hardison, met this week to iron out details for the queen contest.

City Planners Face Two "Repeats" Tonight

It will be a repeat performance for a number of matters that will come before the Planning Commission tonight at 7:30 in the City Hall with top billing in this respect going to the American Trust Co., and Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Burda.

At the last meeting of the Commission, bank officials presented for approval plans of the new bank building that will be constructed at Campbell Ave. and Second St. After considerable discussion centering around the 16-foot driveway approach on Campbell Ave. and the number of parking spaces allotted in the plans, the City Planners decided to defer action on the plans until tonight's meeting. A hearing on the bank's request for a parking variance had previously been set for tonight.

Burdas at Bat Again

The hearing on the request of Mr. and Mrs. Burda for a change of zone for their property at 60 Mission Way, has also been set for tonight. This marks the third time the Burdas have tried to have something done about the zoning of their property so that it can be improved. The old Campbell Hatchery, which has not been operating for some time is located on the property and was operating under a non-conforming use permit. Since the hatchery has ceased operation the property has been idle.

A prior request for a change in zone by the Burdas won approval of the City Planners but was turned down by a 3-2 vote of the City Council in an unprecedented action. The ordinance granting the request had reached the second reading stage when the Council killed it.

The City Planners plan to discuss the opposition voiced by letter by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce of the two-acre minimum requirement being discussed for the industrial park at the southern city limits. The C. of C. directors claim the limitation would prevent a number of industries that are important to the town's future welfare from settling here.

Other Matters

Up for approval tonight also are the plans for the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. substation to be located on the south side of Hamilton Ave. approximately 560-feet west of the San Jose-Los Gatos Road.

Other plans awaiting approval: A. G. Stubbe for a three-unit dwelling in the Ampex subdivision and Lowell E. Gratton for the same thing in the same subdivision and Leonard Pritchard for a proposed furniture store on the west side of the San Jose-Los Gatos Road approximately 250-feet south of Hamilton.

Two other public hearings are scheduled. One on the application of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Smith for a zone change on property at 33 Sunnyside, from R-1 (single residential) to R-2-S (duplex) and the other of Philip Sondeno for a zone change for four lots in Sunberry Gardens, at Sunberry Drive and Kamson Way.

JUST OUR TYPE!

No. Your eyes are o.k.

The Campbell Press this week introduces a change in type faces. Officially it is called Intertype's Imperial in 9-point .

All you have to know is that it is a little larger than the previous face The Press used and makes for easier reading.

Don't you agree?

SPANNING THE YEARS . . . Mrs. Edna F. Smith, who resides at 62 N. 2nd St., Campbell, points to the news story in the issue of August 30, 1945 which announces that she has sold The Campbell Press. For 33 years prior to that date Mrs. Smith was associated in the publishing of the paper. On the left in the picture is the issue of the Campbell Interurban Press of February 16, 1912. This issue announced the sale of the paper to the Smiths while on the right is one of the current issues of The Press. Framed below is the first issue of the Campbell Weekly Visitor, June 7, 1895. Former Publisher Recalls 45 Years in Town

Ira H. Grim, Campbell postmaster who retired last weekend after serving as postmaster for 22 years has set a record for length of service as the local postmaser.

And as a concidental local historical fact, Grim succeeded as postmaster the late Harry C. Smith, who, with his wife, Edna set a record for service as owner publishers of the Campbell Press.

Weekly Here 62 Years

There has been a weekly newspaper in Campbell for more than 62 years and there have been many changes in ownership and in publishers during that time.

Yet for 33 years, more than half the time the paper has been in existence, it was under the same ownership.

In February, 1912, The Campbell Interurban Press in a front page story announced that the paper had been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Smith of Pingree, North Dakota and 33 years later another front page story (the paper had now become The Campbell Press) reported that Mrs. Edna F. Smith, widow of Harry Smith, who died in 1937 had sold the paper to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Allen of Portland, Oregon.

Mrs. Smith, who continues to take a lively interest in the town she came to as a young bride of a newspaperman in 1912, lives at 62 N. 2nd St., Campbell in the house the Smiths built in 1922.

The Smiths came to Campbell from Pingree, North Dakota where they had published the "Pingree Patriot" since 1905: Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith grew up, however, in Minnesota. Mrs. Smith recalls that the main reason for leaving Pingree was that a fire had destroyed their home and business. An $800 press, she remembers that had been just installed was sold for just $12. They saw the ad in a trade magazine that the Campbell paper was for sale and after investigation purchased it Neither one ever voiced any regrets in leaving North Dakota.

Mr. Smith came out to California first in February, 1912 and bought the "Interurban Press" from Lewis C. Dick and A. B. Chamberlain and Mrs. Smith and their daughter, Wilma, who was 5-years old at the time, joined him here in Campbell in April. Their daughter, now Mrs. Walter E. Krohn, of San Francisco, attended the local schools and San Jose State.

Newspapers in general and The Campbell Press in particular have come a long way since the time the Smiths took over here, Mrs. Smith explains. She said that in 1912 the paper was made up one page at a time with all hand-set type. She guesses that the circulation was about 150 at the time

The newspaper office at that time was located on the corner where Schoenberger's Shell Station (Campbell and Central) is today. With a grocery store in front. In the same general area also was a boarding house and a shoe store. The newspaper at the time the Smiths had arrived had been in existence for 17 years and there had been many changes in ownership during that time.

During the Smith tenure of 33 years, a building was built to house a new press and a linotype

Building Permits Total $187,749

Building permits in the City of Campbell for March totalled $187,749, the office of the building inspector reported this week. Heading the list was the permit issued to R. G. Wilson for $75,276 for a 10-unit apartment biulding on Union Ave., just off Campbell Ave. J. P. Russo is the contractor for the structure.

In second place was the permit issued to Tony Raffanti for $20,000 for the store building on Campbell Ave. and Second St. Glen Dubois is the contractor on this job. Following close behind in dollar value are permits for two other apartment buildings on N. Dunster Ave. (a new street). George Stubbs received a permit for $19,179 for a 3-unit apartment at 347-351-357 Dunster Drive while L. A. Hagemeier took a permit out for $18,936 for a 3-unit building at 335-337-339 Dunster.

Western Gravel was issued a permit for $12,000 for a shop building on Railway Ave. and four residential permits, each for $10,000, were issued during the month to F. V. Shoemake for houses on N. Sondra Way.

Bad Leg Keeps Judge off Bike

A veteran bicycle rider of this community who admits to having pedalled 100,000 miles or more, was grounded this week. And he didn' like it.

Judge John D. Blaine, 45 Second St., columnist for The Campbell Press, and long-time former local justice of the peace, is confined to his home this week because of a badly swollen foot.

Judge Blaine, who recently celebrated his 82nd birthday, is quite provoked at the situation in which he finds himself. It is impossible for him to get around on his bike and he also must forego his weekly set of tennis.

The Judge reassured The Press that his temporary impairment would not delay the production of his column "Over the Years" in any way.

"I don't write with my leg," is the way the doughty Judge put it, in answer to our anxious query.

and job presses were purchased. Mr. Smith died in 1937. Mrs. Smith ran the paper herself with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knappen from 1937 to 1945. Mrs. Knappen is with the Mercury while her husband is with the Rosicrucian Press in San Jose. The paper was sold in 1945 to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Allen.

Incorporation-Schools

Mrs. Smith recalls that during her 33 years of publishing a weekly newspaper in Campbell the biggest fights took place over schools and incorporation. She said the paper favored incorporation from the start but could not put it over. (The city was finally incorporated in 1952 after the third try).

In the school battle, the paper was more successful. Originally the grammar school was located in an old two-story building that, according to Mrs. Smith, was ready to fall to pieces. The conflict was over whether a new school should be built and whether there should be an auditorium for community gatherings and programs.

Turning Point

The battle over the new school, she feels, was the turning point in Campbell's progress, for the new schools brought new people.

And the people are still coming, Mrs. Smith reflects, as she reviews her 45 years in Campbell.—G.V.

Presbyterian Church Takes Option On Site at Union and Foxworthy

A site has been chosen for the new Presbyterian Church that is to serve this immediate area, it was reported this week.

An option on eight acres, fronting on Union Ave. on the north side of Camden High School where Foxworthy Ave. will be cut through, has been taken by the Presbyterian Church, USA, according to the Rev. John R. Chandler, organizer pastor.

The plot will provide adequate space for the sanctuary and educational buildings for the church which will serve the Campbell-Cambrian area. It is planned to start building within a year.

During the organizing period the church office is located at Union Ave. and San Jose-Los Gatos Road (587 Union Ave.) Worship services are being held in the "We and Our Neighbors Clubhouse" at the corner of Union and Los Gatos-Almaden Road with church school classes in nearby homes and the Youth Center.

The first worship service and church school was held on March 10. The Rev. Chandler reports that more than 100 children and young people are registered in the church school and more than 100 are attending the morning worship service. Church school classes for nursery through adult age levels are held at 10 a.m. while during the 11 a.m. worship service school classes are conducted for nursery through primary grades.

The site for the church was selected by the Property Committee of the new church, composed of Richard Schumacher, Lee Sutton, Robert Kelly and Ken Downing. The committee has received unanimous approval of the entire Presbytery at its regular meeting on April 30.

Organizing the new church is under the direction of the Rev. Chandler assisted by various committees. Mrs. Robert Kelly and Mrs. Albert Lutus comprise the secretarial staff while Mr. and Mrs. George Montague are responsible for the weekly newsletter, "The Challenger" with Mrs. Mack Johnson as devotional page editor.

Clyde Williamson is superintendent of the Church School and Mrs. William Bratton is director of the choir. Karl Woolbert heads the equipment committee and Mrs. Glen Sturdevant is chairman of the Outreach Commission. Ernest Holzman is church treasurer.

At the recent Nominating Committee meeting, Richard Rush was selected as chairman of the Steering Committee. Other members include, Clifford Bunnelle, Roy Mullins, Mrs. William Bratton, Lee Sutton, Kenneth Downing, Albert Lutus, Robert Edson, and Charles Robinson. The Rev. Chandler and the school superintendent are ex-officio members. This group will function until the church is officially organized and the official boards formed.

Red Cross Drive Here Tops Quota

Red Cross fund campaign workers, led by Mrs. Edward H. Ryan, soared over their $5,720 quota last Thursday after holding a last-minute "push-over" luncheon.

Total funds collected by last night exceeded $6,200, Mrs. Ryan said, and there are still a few collections to be turned in from block workers making return calls. All area chairmen have reached their quota and are over the top.

Campbell is the first branch in the San Jose Chapter to reach its quota in the current annual Red Cross fund drive.

Area chairmen who had not made their quota at the time of last week's luncheon will be given awards for having gone over the top at a "round-up" meeting to be held next Wednesday, April 10, at Mrs. Ryan's home on Old Orchard Road.

County Taxes Due Next Wednesday, Collector Warns

Roy P. Emerson, Santa Clara County Tax Collector, wishes to remind all taxpayers who pay their own taxes that the deadline for paying the second installment of taxes is Wednesday, April 10 at 5:00 p.m.

Payments may be mailed to: Roy P. Emerson, Hall of Justice, Market & St. James Sts., San Jose, Calif., but must be postmarked prior to 5:00 p.m. April 10. A 6% penalty plus costs will be added to the second installment of taxes remaining unpaid after April 10, the collector explains.

The Tax Collector mails tax bills to taxpayers when furnished with an address. Emerson says many taxpayers have purchased property or moved to another address, and have not notified the Tax Office of their new address.

It is incumbent, he says, upon taxpayers to call or write the office for their tax bills in order to avoid the penalty and advertising of their property as "Sold to the State" for delinquent taxes, if they do not receive their tax bill in the mail.

Safety Patrol at Cambrian School Has Busy Street

Because of the increase in traffic, Cambrian School's Safety Patrol composed of sixth, seventh and eighth graders, job has grown in importance and responsibility. The school is located on Casey Road, one of the busier streets in the area.

The Patrol is under the direction of Ernest Anderson, shop instructor at the school. It meets each Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the shop to discuss the past week's work and receive new assignments. The assignments change every two weeks.

A report of the activities of Cambrian School's Safety Patrol has been made by Darrel Smothers, one of the seventh grade patrolmen. Darrel reports that the Home and School Club has recently purchased six new patrol jackets for the members of the group.

According to Darrel, equipment for the patrol consists of yellow hats, regulation street signs, new red jackets, yellow rain coats, and white belts.

High School Band Plays for Rotary

Rotary Club was entertained Monday noon with musical selections by the Campbell High School Band under the direction of William Perkins, head of the music department. During the performance, Perkins turned his baton over to band member Dave Gupton for a number and Bob Gardner, student teacher. Guest conductor for another selection was Sam P. Cava, director of Memory Post American Legion Band and Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager.

Rotary members were thrown in a dither after reading their weekly bulletin hot off the press, which stated that a mad mob of Campbell High students had given the heave-ho to Robbert Culp, dean of boys, and were marching on Campbell City Hall demanding the right to vote in the coming school bond elections, and that Major Neal Royer had to call out his National Guard unit to quell the rebellion.

Back of all this "mis-information" was Cliff Cassiday, bulletin editor and shop superintendent of the Campbell Press, who sat back and watched the reaction to his April Fool joke.

Sale of Lilies On April 13 to Aid Handicapped

Using the Easter lily, as a special symbol of hope to crippled children, the Santa Clara County Society for Crippled Children has set Saturday, April 13, as Lily Day. Thousands of miniature blossoms will go on sale in Campbell and throughout the County on that day in behalf of handicapped children and young adults.

Mrs. Lowell Benson is Campbell's chairman for both the Easter Seal campaign and Lily Day.

Lily Day committees have been set up in 15 Santa Clara Valley cities and towns and nearly 500 volunteers have been recruited to sell the lilies.

Lily Day sale volunteers will be stationed on heavily traveled corners of business districts in Valley cities and towns. Each volunteer will be equipped with an identifying arm band, a coin container, and the miniature lilies which have been made by handicapped persons.

Donations of any amount will be accepted for the lilies.

A County-wide goal of $41,000, has been set.

State to Get Plans for New Blackford School

Final drawings of the plans for the new Blackford School of the Campbell elementary district will be forwarded to the State Division of Architecture today, William C. Henley, district superintendent, reported this week.

It is expected that approximately six weeks will be taken by the state in checking the plans. It is hoped that they will be approved so that the job can go to bids in May. It is anticipated that the school will be ready for occupancy by January, 1958.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Plant lawns now. Money and effort spent in good soil preparation will pay off in years to come.

2. A monthly application of fertilizer around rose bushes will pay off in number and quality of blooms.

3. Plant these perennials now—Chrysanthemums, Delphinium, Pentstemon, Gaillardia, Columbine, Coreopsis and Gerbera.

4. Watch out for snails, slugs, earwigs and cut-worms. Baits or dusts are available which will control them.

5. Time to plant Tuberous Begonias in that shady bed.

Rhododendrons

Offering a large variety of bloom colors and shrub sizes, Rhododendrons are a favorite flowering shrub in northern California.

A mixture of leaf mold, peat moss and sandy loam is recommended by the California Association of Nurserymen as being best for this beautiful shrub. The Association also suggests that this shrub be planted in an area protected from high winds and continuous hot sun. A final consideration is drainage. Make sure the soil drains well, for Rhododendrons will not thrive where water collects, especially during winter.

Rhododendrons have large flowers and long, rather large tapering leaves. They feed mainly through the leaves rather than through the soil, hence, they require only a light soil or anchoring mixture as recommended by the California Association of Nurserymen. With the light soil, they are apt to be harmed by a heavy wind—thus protection from this hazard is necessary.

Once you have assured yourself of these considerations, concern yourself with maintaining a high level of soil acidity. A recommended method of accomplishing this is through a regular program of feeding with an acid type fertilizer. Work in peat moss and mulching with the fertilizer. The application of foliage feeding sprays has also proven to be an effective method of getting the necessary acid materials to the shrub. Experiments conducted with foliage sprays, such as ferrous gluconate and magnesium sulphate showed that Rhododendrons definitely benefit from such sprays. In many locations, use of such sprays can compensate for excess alkalinity in the soil and water.

Rhododendrons are a giant-size family, given various divisions by different botanists and horticulturists. It is sufficient to say that there are shrubs and veritable trees of all sizes in the Rhododendron family. Azaleas are a type of Rhododendron.

Some familiar name vraieties of Rhododendrons include the Pink Pearl, Unknown Warrior, and Beauty of Littleworth, blooming in clear pink, fiery red and white flecked in crimson, respectively. Lavender blue flowers appear on Ponticum and rich deep purple blooms with a darker blotch are outstanding on Purple Splendor.

Cottage Gardens Pride, brilliant pink with brown specks, is another Rhododendron favorite, as is Lord Roberts, one of the finest dark reds.

Although it may appear that Rhododendrons are a difficult plant to grow, such is not entirely true. Once you have this beautiful shrub situated in its proper environment, it requires only nominal care while adding a dignity and beauty to your garden difficult to match with any other plant. Consult your local nurserymen and select one or more of these colorful shrubs for your garden. You will be well rewarded for the small amount of care it requires to get this plant started.

New Petunia Varieties

The world of Petunias has been brightened with the recent introduction of annual Petunias in a range of colors that rival jewel tones.

Newest Petunia dazzlers are Red Satin and Glitters. Red Satin grows in a mounded shape with rich scarlet red flowers. Glitters is the first and only scarlet and white Petunia, and is a lower-growing plant.

Following an Indian theme in name, Comanche and Paleface offer contrasting blooms as their names imply; Comanche is red and Paleface is white. Fire Chief and Fire Dance are reds; Fire Dance with salmon scarlet flowers enhanced by yellow throats and Fire Chief,

EDITORIAL

Planning with Common Sense

The Campbell Press has long been harping on the important part the Planning Commission plays in the so-called "big picture" of this community's future.

We have also tried to convey the idea that the City Planners have a grave responsiblity to the community. The impression, good, bad or indifferent. that the Commission makes on prospective settlers (residential, commercial or industrial, as the case may be) can very definitely affect the future of the city.

At the risk of being compared to a cracked phonograph record, The Press again reiterates that there is room for improvement in both the attitude and philosophy of the Planning Commission.

This community is in no position to lose anything in the way of improvements, either commercially or industrially, caused by any misunderstanding, lack of knowledge of the situation or an idealistic approach to the overall picture by members of the Planning Commission.

Much to our disappointment we learned this week that this attitude on the part of some of the City Planners has caused a major firm planning a commercial expansion in this area to take a second look at the situation.

Fortunately, this particular firm will in all probability go ahead with its plans, but officials of the company made no secret about it that they were perplexed, surprised and somewhat worried over this uninviting attitude on the part of the City Planners.

We maintain that an Utopia in planning is something to strive for, but nothing else. We must be realistic in the approach, for Campbell is at the present time in no position to be choosy in plans for improvements or expansions.

We believe that two entirely different types of thinking planningwise must be put into effect, if this community is to make progress.

The pattern for development of a new area, say from agricultural into residential or commercial districts, must of necessity be different from that of improving an old section of a community.

We think that if Planners and all city officials recognize this, the entire community will benefit.

We hold that any improvement to a rundown section of a community is better than doing nothing about it. We feel that these improvements, as minor as they might seem, serve the purpose of getting the project "off the ground".

In our opinion, it is far better to actually see a minor material change for the better take place than it is to draw up elaborate plans which cannot be carried out.

The Press agrees that the Planning Commission has a difficult task trying to satisfy all its critics including this paper.

Yet we also think that a more complete understanding of Campbell's economic situation would not be amiss for all concerned.

All in all we feel that in most cases affecting improvements and developments of the older sections of town that common sense should be the determining factor rather than "what the book says".

Good Luck to Both

To Mrs. Ellis Litynsky, Campbell's new acting postmaster, who officially took office last weekend. The Campbell Press extends wishes for success.

To Ira H. Grim ,who retires as postmaster after serving in that capacity for 22 years, The Press offers congratuations for a job well done and wishes him the best of everything during the retirement period he has earned by his service to the government.

During Ira's 22 years. the road was not always a smooth one and the former postmaster still bears some of the scars of battle. But it is a tribute to his ability that he was able to ride out storms at the helm of the local office during its tremendous growth period.

So, good luck Postmaster Litynsky; Have a good time, Ira.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

Campbell is 70 years old this year.

Our chonology runs this way. Benjamin Campbell arrived in California by wagon train in 1846. He bought a farm in 1851. He laid out a townsite in 1887, or 70 years ago.

This information I get from a souvenir book of 1895 loaned me by Mrs. Anita Jacobus of the advertising department, Campbell Press.

This book says Mr. Campbell came from Kentucky. In this space I've said he came from Missouri. Well, I'm glad I was mistaken. Harry Truman came from Missouri. Centuries ago profound A. Pope wrote, "To err is human". As of our day some wit tickled me pink with the parody, "To err is Truman."

Campbell Creek

Before B. Campbell came to Campbell he and his father set up a sawmill above Saratoga on what become known as "Campbell Creek." Hence Saratoga is described in the book as on Campbell Creek, a confusing matter recently remedied, I believe, by change of creek name.

Profits from the sawmill, it may be assumed, bought the farm that became the site of Campbell town. I have heard Mrs. Campbell, Grandma to my family, say that Grandpa once sold his farm and got a down payment of $50. But the buyer never came back. Grandma reflected, "Just think. If that man had come back we might have been just like anybody." She considered fate kind.

Around 1895 fate took another turn, one affecting much besides Campbell, and especially interesting to a cyclist like me. Very significantly, the only moving vehicles pictured in the book on the streets of Campbell are precisely bicycles. The book says that in 1895 cycling was in a boom. I happen to know, since I was then here and 21, that the boom was touched off by the invention of the pneumatic tire, one of the greatest inventions of all time. Sunddenly "everybody," so to say, got bikes — adults, not children.

The book says San Jose had nine cycle clubs and 28 agencies. Ellis Preston, a friend of mine, then a rural mail carrier, became Campbell's first bicycle agent, part time.

Largely with bicycle profits Preston built the large building now occupied by Nelson Grain Co. and Campbell Hardware Co. But here fatetook another turn. That large building was not mainly for bicycle business but for repairing the motor cars that pneumatic tires and gasoline engines had created as enemies of bicycles. Now "everybody," so to say, was replacing muscular power of legs with mechanical power under the toes.

But I am far ahead of the book. Preston didn't build, I believe, until about 1915. I'm so mad at the motor cars that spoil cycling that my story is getting out of hand. Let me return to the book.

Bank of Campbell

I am looking at the picture of the bank. Do my eyes deceive me? Can it be?—yes, it is! It is now the business office of G. E. Farley, the very oldest business building in this town in its original form.

Another building shown in the book in its original form and until recently still so is the Congregational Church, "built a neat house of worship (1891) at a cost of $2,000. Holy smoke! If our City Fathers had known the low original cost of that historic building they might have talked the owners into selling for less money.

Anyhow, our Town Hall is really historic. Also historic are the relative costs of then and now. with plenty of room for intelligent interpretation.

Men pictured in this 1895 book usually have, like Mr. Campbell, some kind of beard. Here on one page are seven prominent medical men. Two have mustaches and five full beards.

Men of 1895 wanted to look like men. Now they usually don't. When Pearl Buck first looked us over she observed, "It seems to be a compliment in America to say of a man that he is just like a boy. It ought to be an insult." In 1895 it would have been an insult.

Women of 1895 had, of course, long hair, usually done atop the head. But in one respect they were the same. If you asked their ages it made 'em mad.

Well, all in all, we are proud that our town is 70 years old, and that Old Settlers' Day is the second oldest community celebratiion in our state.

OUT on the LIMB

with George Vierhus

We are still trying to find out whether it was done on purpose but so far everyone pleads innocent. We are referring to a typographical error that almost got by us last week. Fortunately we caught it at the last moment.

In one of our editorials last week we mentioned "City Dads". Somehow it came out "City Duds".

It would have been extremely embarrassing, if that error had slipped by us.

Although there have been times when we have criticized the City Fathers and we could maybe have implied that the Dads were Duds, in this particular instance no criticism was intended.

There are enough obvious errors getting by us each week in this sheet without having one like that occur which would put us so far out on this limb that we would have trouble scrambling back.

We must admit that sometimes our perch out here does get a wee bit shaky to say the least.

—o—

Last week for example in this column we commented about the picketing of John Dee Cooper's Golden State Cleaners at Campbell Ave. at Railway Ave. We mentioned that we thought the Laundry and Dry Cleaners Union was being pretty unfair about the situation.

Working conditions are not involved, we pointed out. The union apparently wanted the employees (all three of 'em) to join the union and the employees (all three of 'em) didn't want to.

George Gillis, organizer for the union, called us Saturday. He took exception to our stand on the matter. He said we were being unfair in our attitude and that we did not know the union's side of the case.

We told him that we would be happy to hear the union's point of view and, if he wanted to, we would publish a letter from him explaining what the union had in mind.

We have to admit that we had a sneaking hunch we were going to hear from the union boys when we wrote the piece.

So we weren't too surprised.

—o—

We have been disappointed so far in the response to the ballot that we published in last week's issue as a culmination to the five article series on needed city improvements and how they can be obtained.

We knew that people would be apathetic to the situation but we hoped that there would be enough interest shown to make our efforts worthwhile.

Not counting the editorials, approximately 9,000 words were published on the subject during the time we ran the series. We feel we covered the situation thoroughly.

We are running the ballot again this issue with the hope that those who didn't take the time to fill out one and turn it in might do so this week.

—o—

There is no space on the ballots for comments but we are happy to note that a number of those who took time to return the ballot added a number of pithy remarks. Some favorable and some favorable.

"Good Luck! Campbell has been a 'child' long enough, let it grow and be an 'adult' now."

That was one comment from an individual who favored a bond issue for the whole works.

From the other side of the fence was the following: "I like your Press Open Forum. However, even if I do see the need for the improvements discussed, I have had THREE substantial tax increases since moving here in as many years. I don't think I want any more. Is the County getting it or who? How about a discussion on what is happening to our present taxes?

"Thanks again for a nice paper."

This guy voted "no" right down the line.

—o—

We appreciate the fact that no one likes tax raises but we don't think our friend in this case is being absolutely fair. Most of the "tax raises" have been based on increases in assessed valuation and for schools and the City of Campbell should not be penalized for this, especially when the City actually lowered its rates last year.

We think these improvements are absolutely necessary, if Campbell is going to go forward. Or, as a matter of fact, just to keep from retrogressing.

It will take a bond issue to do the stuff but the citizens must recognize it first, if it is to be successful.

—o—

We were hoping that the response from the ballot would compare fairly to the response that Pete Lico of the Towne Pride Market has been getting from the coupons he has been running in The Press and Merchandiser.

But we must admit ruefully (Joe Anello, our ad manager, please note) that the return on Pete's coupons far surpasses the front page ballot responses.

That proves something or other. But we are not sure what.

Admittedly Mrs. Housewife is much more interested in specials on coffee, orange juice and Tide than she is in streets, storm drains and firehouses. But we were sorta hoping that she or her husband might have taken the time to do something about that ballot.

After all, the ballot and the coupons both have something in common.

They affect the pocketbook.

—o—

Aside from all this, we looked out our office window the other day and saw Pete Lico catch a guy redhanded in the act of shoplifting. From our vantage point we watched as Officer Dick Mayne searched the man, and came up with a can of Spam, of all things.

The culprit turned out to be a "wino". We don't think he was an ex-serviceman of World War II.

Pete tells that he is bothered quite a bit by shoplifters but that store managers have to be very careful in their accusations. And the party better have the stuff on them or the store is in for a lot of explantions.

Or worse than that.

LAW IN ACTION

LIVING LAW

As with automobile tires, so with our laws:

If you think of them only when things go wrong, they both spell trouble. But the law works along year after year for you.

Think of the miles your tires took you, and the many things the law lets you do with ease because it worked on your side—to help you buy and sell and lease and lend and borrow; to work, get paid, to bank your money, educate your children, to go in peace, perhaps to travel the world over.

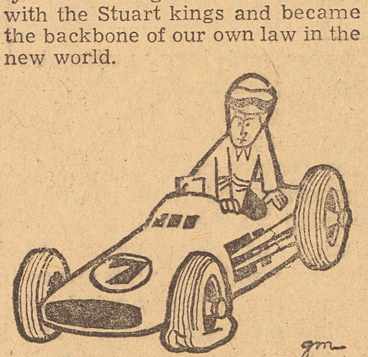
Your tires will give out, but the law lets you do long-lasting things—to set up trusts for your children after you are gone — or while you live; to contract for medical care or an annuity, or to protect your property against disaster.

The law seems almost like the air we breathe so little do we think of it most of the time when we do not run athwart it.

Scholars found that, in war after war, conquerors might come and go, but the Central European peoples went on with their old laws and customs, working, doing business, marrying, rearing children, raising crops, worshipping, dying and handing down their property.

William the Conqueror was wise to let the British live on under their old laws. Though the king's judges went along to look into the facts of a dispute, William had a local jury tell the judge what the old law was.

In time the judges jotted down the facts and the law, and our case system began to take form Out of this system came the common law which later brought liberty back to England in the conflict with the Stuart kings and became the backbone of our own law in the new world.



Crafty old Machiavelli told all would-be conquerors to kill a free people off or let them run their own affairs under their old usages.

Otherwise they "can always find a reason to rebel" in the name of liberty and their ancient customs which time or benefits cannot make them forget.

Note: California lawyers offer this column for you to know about our laws.

ON CAPITOL HILL

By Representative Charles S. Gubser

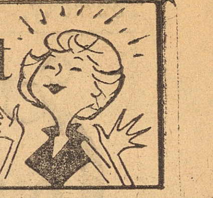
Do Presidents really need vacations? Most everyone recognizes the superhuman responsibilities that a Chief Executive must carry in making the decisions which bring war or peace or affect the nation's economy. With few exceptions, frequent Presidential vacations are approved as being in the public interest. But I wonder how many think about the "extracurricular" justifications for a day in Florida's sun or a round of golf in Georgia? Let's take the recent White House Reception as an example.

Despite a stubborn cold which has plagued hte President, he and Mrs. Eisenhower received all of Official Washington on Tuesday, March sixth. Postponement was impossible since the biannual affair is in line of duty and since March seventh was Ash Wednesday, the start of the Lenten season, during which no state social functions can be held. For a solid two hours, Mamie and Ike stood in the Blue Room and shook hands with each of the thousand guests as they were introduced by a White House Military Aide.

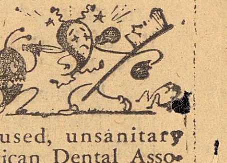
Male guests at the reception squirmed in their uncomfortable and rented suits of tails and "White Tie". Women debated the age old question, "Should long, white, formal gloves be removed before shaking hands?" Some objected to the hours of waiting in line which followed a king-size traffic jam and another wait at the East Entrance to the Executive Mansion before a White House chauffer parked your car in the roped off street. Others were preoccupied with getting through the mass of humanity in the State Dining Room to gain a nibble of water cress sandwiches and a sip of non-alcoholic punch. In he East Room where te Marine Band's excellent dance orchestra played for dancing, the room buzzed with talk of the "snub" rendered Senator McCarthy when he was not invited. Other groups discussed the chances of electing a Republican Senator in Texas and changing the Senate leadership. One Republican even mentioned that though he wanted a new Republican Senator, his party might lose by it—Senator McClellan's committee was giving the party its best campaign ammunition in years, and wouldn't it be a shame if he had to step donw in favor of Joe McCarthy?

At eleven o'clock, after Mr. and Mrs. Ike had retired, the affair came to an end, the traffic jam was repeated, and all went home with mixed thoughts and emotions. To this point, not one single person had mentioned that the party must have been tiring to the President and First Lady!

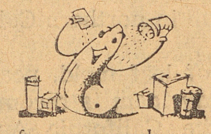
Bright Ideas



HOT CROSS BUNS have a long and honorable history. Ancient Greeks, Egyptians, Saxons all made buns marked with crosses, which—they thought—had powers not only to insure good baking but also to prevent sickness. No matter what the appeal was centuries ago, today's popularity for hot cross buns comes about because they're such wonderful eating. But care should be taken so that they are served piping hot. Heat them in the top of a double boiler over rapidly boiling water. Cover tightly and heat about 5 minutes. Or place the buns in a heavy brown paper bag or leave them right in the package and heat at 350 degrees (moderate oven) about 5 minutes.



THE "BATTLE OF THE BATHROOM" in this case isn't concerned with rights of occupancy. It's the war against overused, unsanitary toothbrushes. American Dental Association figures show that four out of five toothbrushes are tired, worn out and unsatisfactory. But the clean teeth brigade has a new weapon. It's the Germ Fighter toothbrush, a brush treated by a special anti-bacterial process that destroys or inhibits germs found in all untreated toothbrushes. Arthur "The Old Germ Fighter" Godfrey claims that the new Germ Fighter is the most powerful defense in the history of "toothbrushin'."



FLAVOR TRICKS FOR FISH STICKS— little bars of boneless fish, precooked to a delicate brown and frozen — perk up early spring meals. Although the sticks are good "as is" when cooked according to package directions, here are variations to make meals fun to plan. Before baking the sticks, sprinkle them with: (1) dry or freshly grated American cheese; (2) a mixture of dried thyme, marjoram, oregano; (3) dried parsley, celery flakes and poultry seasoning; (4) dried mint flakes and nutmeg; or (5) poppy seeds.

LET YOUR MAILMAN DO YOUR ERRANDS for you, while you relax at home. Modern bank services make it possible for you to do nearly all your banking by mail — a mighty valuable convenience if you live in the country or at some distance from your nearest bank. The practice of paying bills by check has been popular for years.

MODERN AS TODAY, yet half a century old — that's the story of instant coffee. It was an Englishman who first developed a process for making instant coffee powder in 1906. The story goes that while stationed in Guatemala, he sat one evening in the shade of his orange trees impatiently waiting for his wife to join him for dinner. His silver coffee pot on the table beside him had dripped a bit and he noticed a dry brown powder under the spout. He tasted it and discovered it had a real coffee flavor. So, the idea was born.

Watch Those Kids On Bikes, Patrol Warns Motorists

"Be alert for children on bicycles" is a reminder released recently to motorists by the California Highway Patrol.

"Last year 3,535 bicyclists were injured and 41 killed in traffic accidents on California streets and highways," reports the San Jose Area office of the Patrol. "As the weather becomes warmer more children will be riding bicycles, many of them unaware of the hazards of todays traffic.

The increase in traffic each year calls for continued alertness to the bicycle problem by every driver and parent," the Patrol warns. "Parents are urged to teach their children by word and example the rules of the road. They should assure themselves that their sons and daughters know and will obey all the applicable traffic laws.

"Drivers must also remember that children are apt to do the unexpected, whether walking or riding a bicycle," he concluded. "Only full cooperation by every adult will help us control the traffic accident problem involving children on bicycles."

Gubser Proposes Permanent Hoover Commission Setup

A permanent Hoover Commission to recommend possible government savings has been proposed today by Congressman Charles S. Gubser (R-Gilroy).

Gubser inroduced a bill in the House placing the Hoover Commission on a permanent basis to continuously recommend possible savings to government. The commission would be composed of twelve members; four appointed by the President, four appointed by the President of the Senate, and four by the Speaker of the House. Members of the Commission would be equally divided between private citizens and members of the Executive and Legislative Branches of the Government. The bill, also, calls for equal division of membership between Republicans and Democrats.

In introducing the bill, Gubser said, ..The first two Hoover Commissions saved billions of dollars in taxpayers' funds. Unfortunately, too few of their recommendations have been enacted into law. A continuous Hoover Commission could not only uncover new places in which to save money, but it might keep pressure on Congress to enact previous recommendations. There is a great deal of talk of budget cutting these days and I can think of no sounder approach than the one employed by the Hoover Commission."

HERE ..FOR ..ANNIVERSARY . . . "Timbo the Clown", the children's friend, who has appeared on television, at fairs, and celebrations throughout the West, will be at Campbell Drugs and Pharmacy (Campbell Shopping Center) this Saturday, April 6, to help the store celebrate its first anniversary. Timbo will present gifts to the children who attend the celebration.

Bay Counties Smog Body Puts Damper On Open Burning

Open burning will be regulated for the first time in the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District as of October 1, 1957 as a result of action taken by the directors of the district last week.

The directors passed Regulation No. 1 effective in the five countis, Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara, that make up the district, marking the first time that a government regulation has been made on a regional basis in the Bay Area.

District Regulation No. 1 sets October 1, 1957, as the effective date, with an extension to March 1, 1958, for certain agricultural open burning, and an extension to April 1, 1958, for fires set for the purpose of clearance and development of land for subdivision or building purposes.

Chairman Francis Dunn, Jr., also made of record a statement which said in part, "It is the policy of this District to encourage vigorous action toward compliance by those disposal site operators and the cities and counties they serve.

"If, even after such vigourous effort, the practical problems of one or more have not been fully solved by October 1, 1957, because of real obstacles, it is the policy of this District to recognize the difficulties and grant the additional time necessary for compliance."

The next regular meeting of the Board of Directors will be April 3, at 10 A.M. in the Harbor Commissioners' Board Room in the Ferry Building in San Francisco.

Assembly Bill Outlaws Switch-Blade Knives

The assembly has voted 67-0 for a bill which would outlaw the sale or concealment of switch blade knives with a blade more than two inches long.

Bills on the subject, including the one passed this morning, AB 202 by Louis Francis (R-San Mateo) had met considerable objection in previous discussions. Francis said the measure was aimed at "prohibiting the carrying of these knives in public places, such as dances and athletic events." He said some cities had ordinances on the matter but it was felt the uniformity of a state law was needed.

Solon Questions High Pensions

Assemblyman William A. Munnell said today he was astounded to see that Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's proposal for a $398,057 annual pay boost for about 50 members of his state departments would mean some could retire at "fantastically high" pensions.

Munnell, minority floor leader of the assembly from Los Angeles, cited certain examples of what the pay raises would be. He emphasized he was not challenging the pay boosts on the basis of individual merit or efficiency.

Munnell said, under the bill now before the legislature, Director of Motor Vehicles Paul Mason, now receiving $16,000, would be raised to $22,500. His pension at 65 would amount to $19,512 a year.

Newton Stearns, executive secretary to the governor, would receive a $7,500 annual salary raise. His salary would become $22,500 and he would be eligible for a $16,500 annual retirement pay.

Keep Seals, Says Society -- Give Whatever You Can

"Make as large a contribution as you can, but, whatever you give, don't return your Easter seals."

This is the plea of the Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Santa Clara County, sponsor of the 1957 Easter Seal Campaign now in progress in Campbell and throughout the County.

Jay McCabe, County chairman of the campaign, urges Cambell residents to "acquire the Easter Seal habit by automatically including a colorful seal on every piece of correspondence, thus spreading the word that crippled children need our help.

Cambell Easter Seal Chairman is Mrs. Lowell Benson.

County-wide goal of the campaign is $41,000. Funds raised through the Easter seal campaign make possible a wide variety of services to crippled children throughout the year. The Society maintains a summer camp for handicapped children near the Stevens Creek Dam, and a sheltered workshop for young adults at 299 West San Fernando St. The Society also provides many direct services to crippled children such as special equipment (wheelchairs, walkers, hospital beds, etc.) transportation to and from clinics, purchase of drugs and anti-biotics, physical therapy, training and employment for homebound persons.

More than 134,000 Easter Seal letters were mailed to county residents recently, and the recipients are urged to return the yellow envelopes, with their contribution, to campaign headquarters as promptly as possible.

A new type of pre-cast concrete blocks, weighing 2 tons, is being used to protect a breakwater at Crescent City.

SJS BOXERS COMPETE

Six San Jose State boxers will compete in the National Collegiate starting Thursday at Pocatello and the Spartans will join the rest of the field in battling heavily favored Idaho State for the team crown. Bucs Lead Mountain View 55-17 As Rain Halts Final Five Events

Leading by a score of 55 to 17 with just five events remaining, the Campbell High spikesters seem certain to capture the dual meet from Mountain View after the final events are run off sometime this week. Rain stopped the meet which would have been Campbell's second win in three starts.

Los Gatos and James Lick are presently in the top spot in SCVAL competition with Fremont and Campbell hot on their heels in second spot.

Mike Profit again topped the shot put event with a toss of 57 ft 3½ inches but failed by three feet to better his season's best of 60 ft 3¾ inches.

Monty Nielsen led the way in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Campbell cleaned up both races well ahead of their Mountain View competition. Jerry Shenefiel pushed Nielson all the way in both events with Dave Alvarez third in the 100 yard dash and Martinez third in the 220.

Shenefiel also helped the Buc trackmen to a clean sweep in the broad jump with a leap of 20 ft 4 inches. Bob Jiminez and Douglas finished behind Shenefiel in that order.

Clean sweeps were the rule of the day as the Bucs swept the shot putting event also with Gary Prnjak and Jerry Fuller second and third respectively behind Profit.

The score without the mile relay, discus, high jump, pole vault, and the hop-step-jump events was 55 for Campbell and 17 for Mountain View. Class B, C, and D races were close with Campbell slightly ahead in all divisions. In the B's: Campbell 66—Mt. View 24; C's Campbell 38—Mt. View 16; D's Campbell 38—Mt. View 25.

Campbell Upsets Mountain View in League Battle

Mountain View felt the blow of the Campbell Buccaneers Thursday as the Bucs won their first game of the season 9-6 on the local diamond. Campbell now has a league record of one win and one loss.

Mountain View was rated as one of the contenders for the SCVAL league top spot before Thursday's upset at the hands of the 1956 champions. Campbell is presently in a fight for second place, behind James Lick, Washington, and Los Gatos all with 2-0 records.

Roger Almquist started on the mound for the Bucs and finished the first inning with only one man getting to first base on an overthrow from third. Curves were served up with amazing accuracy as Almquist put the ball across in his first starting assignment.

Ben Lujan popped the first pitch served by Eagle pitcher John Shimizu to the second baseman with Dave LaBarbera dropping a single over the second baseman's head on the next pitch. LaBarbera advanced to second as Don Kitajima knocked one into right center field for a single. Gene Bowen kept the rally hot with another single in the center field slot. Hector Cordova sacrificed a pop fly to first to score LaBarbera and advanced the other runners.

Jim Keech was thrown out at first but managed an RBI to boost the score to 2-0 for Campbell with two outs. Jim Corbus was cut off on a pop fly to end the scoring threat of the Bucs in the first frame.

Harper, Flynn, and Mantelli bit the dust one-two-three in the second inning giving the Bucs a chance to get to home plate before they had cooled off from the first inning burst. Tony Ochoa picked up a walk and was knocked in by Dave LaBarbera's triple down the center.

Don Kitajima chalked up an RBI as he slipped a single almost in the same spot LaBarbera had just placed his triple. Gene Bowen went down swinging to calm the scoring punch for Campbell with the score 4-0.

Campbell again hit the scoring column for two points late in the fifth inning on a two out situation. John Shimizu had previously tapped the ball for a home run to rack up Mountain View's first score of the game. Gene Bowen slapped a double through the center and touched home plate on Hector Cordova's following double. Roger Almquist added a single with Cordova sliding home safely for the second run of the inning.

Mountain View saw the light in the sixth round and knocked out four hits while garnishing two walks to score three runs before they were stopped by the Campbell outfielders. Not to be out done by their competitors the Buccaneers also brought across three runs in the bottom of the sixth on Dave LaBarbera's second triple, three walks and a single. Two runs crossed the plate for the Eagles in the top of the seventh but they were cut off before they overcame the 9-6 margin held by the Bucs.

I will utter what I believe today, if it should contradict all I said yesterday. Wendell Phillips

Buc Baseballers Win From Willow Glen 3,-2

Winning their second game in as many days the Campbell Bucs showed some of last year's form when they downed the Willow Glen Rams 3-2 on the Ram diamond. Friday afernoon. League standings were not at stake for either club.

Ben Lujan led off for the Bucs and knocked a triple over the third base line to set up the first score as he scampered home on a squeeze play between third and home. Dave LaBarbera walked to first base but did not advance further as his teammates went down one-two- three.

Jim Keech started on the mound for Campbell and gave up two walks in the first inning as well as a double but quelled a base loaded scoring threat with two strike outs.

Second and third inning play was primarily dominated by the out fielders as neither team reached first base.

Willow Glen found the range in the fourth inning pounding out two hits and bringing across two runs, to go ahead 2-1. Campbell did the same in the fifth to take the lead by a slim margin and hold on until the end of the game.

Takes Place Friday

Campbell Meets Camden on Track

By Richard Ferguson

Camden will journey to Campbell tomorrow afternoon to try for the first time to defeat their big brothers on the cinder track. This is Camden's first year in SCVAL league competition and the team will be seeking their first win of the season also.

Camden does not lack speedsters by a long shot. But the Cougars just haven't mustered enough team effort to win a league meet. Ramos from Camden holds the best time to date (10:1) in the 100-yard dash as well as the best time in the 220 at 22.3. Monty Nielsen sprints both distances for Campbell and a real battle should be witnessed between these two boys.

Nielsen's best time to date this year in the 100 in 10.3 and 22.4 in the 220 yard run. Monty holds the SCVAL league record in the 100 yard dash.

Camden's relay team also holds the best SCVAL time in meets so far this season with a time of 1.33.4.

Starting time for the meet is set at 3:15.
